

Welcome to the SUHRE & ASSOCIATES, LLC NEWSLETTER

The month of May was busy for the firm. We continued working on several projects as a team and started a book club. This book club gives the team the opportunity to gain new perspectives and give each member the drive to lead. We decided on It's Influence: The Psychology of Persuasion by Robert B. Cialdini. This book helps us align with our business strategy and motivates us to innovate. We anticipate starting a new book every 6-8 weeks, so stay tuned for the next novel we are diving into.

May was also a month where government officials rolled out phases for reopening of certain businesses. While our firm has been an "essential" business from the beginning, we have continued to keep our staff safe and serve our clients remotely. Like much of the world, we are looking forward to when all businesses are open and thriving again. Until then, we are adjusting to the "new normal".

This month, we are celebrating all of the fathers of the world. When they aren't serving our clients by day, they are being dad by night. Robert Healey, Dayton and Cincinnati attorney, says, "Father's Day to me means you always have someone to grill with!" And he's not wrong. With the warmer temperatures rolling in and the official start of summer a day shy of Father's Day, hopefully he will have plenty of grilling days ahead. Dustin Wooton, criminal case manager, shares, "Being a father is nothing more than controlling the chaos..." Father's Day is also a time to feel "remembered" during the year. Joe Suhre says, "Being a father means taking the time to listen, to teach, and to lead by example. Having three boys is an exciting responsibility and even though challenging at times, it's more fun than I could have imagined."

HAPPY FATHERS DAY

While May was busy with a lot of changes and June with celebrations, the months ahead will likely be the same. We hope that you and your loved ones are staying safe and healthy during this season and looking forward to the summer months ahead. Until next time.

DUI FAQs

What happens after my first DUI?

First time or fifth time, there are many things that an attorney can do to help make the process go more smoothly or to help with the situation that you have in front of you. It's important to have an attorney who is connected in the area, who knows the judges, who's familiar with the prosecutors and more. You don't want to wonder what's going to happen every step of the way, allow your attorney to handle that.

What happens if I get an out of state DUI?

One of the issues for an out of state DUI is not only are you facing consequences in the state you are charged, but you can expect to face consequences in the state in which you are licensed. We have attorneys who are licensed in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana who can help you with an out of state DUI.

What do I do if I'm pulled over for a DUI?

First and foremost, be polite and provide the officer with your license and insurance information. However, you do not have to submit to the roadside tests or allow the officer to search your car. If you are arrested and spend the night in jail, it's important to contact an attorney immediately.

SOTTO CINCINNATI, OHIO

"I love Italian food and one of the best places for it in Cincinnati is SOTTO. SOTTO is located underground on 6th street in the former LaNormandie space. SOTTO is known for its handmade pastas and authentic Italian recipes. The atmosphere is relaxed and unpretentious. It's an amazing place to grab cocktails and enjoy fresh pasta. My personal favorites are the cacio e pepe and the breaded pork loin with the lemon caper sauce."
